SHAMROCK WINS SECOND PLACE

Yesterday's Race Decided the Question Beyond Reasonable Doubt.

SAILED IN SHAMROCK WIND

Sir Thomas Lipton Frankly Admits That He Was Beaten by a Better Boat---Details of the Columbia's Decisive Victory.

By Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 3.—The weather bureau tonight issued the following forecast for tomorrow's race off Sandy Hook:

"Present conditions indicate prevailing of 10 to 20 knot breeze off Sandy Hook and fair Friday. Wind will hold from north to northwest."

Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 3.—In a glorious whole sail breeze which heeled the big sloops contestants down until their lee rails were awash in the foaming seas, Herreshoff's white wonder, the Columbia, today beat Watson's British creation, the Shamrock II, over a triangular course of 30 miles by two minutes and 32 seconds actual time. With the 27 seconds with the Irish sloop must allow on account of her larger sail plan, the Columbia won the second race of the series by three minutes 25 seconds.

The fastest race ever sailed in a cup contest. It was not only a royal struggle from a spectacular point of view but was absolutely decisive as to merits. The two racing thoroughbreds. They not a yachting sharp who witnessed the race today who is not firmly convinced that the defender is the abler boat, blow high or blow low, beating, reaching or running, and Sir Thomas and his merry British tars are doomed to return home empty-handed.

Again the ancient piece of silver which was brought across the western ocean 50 years ago is safe. Again American supremacy in marine architecture has been vindicated. Sir Thomas has been wishing for a breeze that would carry Shamrock's lee rail, and today he had it, and as he had a similar breeze in the concluding race two years ago when Columbia won a driving finish beat the first Shamrock over six minutes.

The wind today was strong and true, blew around 18 knots from the northwest, and at every point of sailing except, perhaps, running before the wind, in which the defender has already taken a measure of the challenger, the Yankee sloop proved herself abler than the Watson craft. From the time she crossed the starting line, one minute and 34 seconds behind the British hunter, until she picked up and passed the British boat three miles after rounding the second mark, Columbia's pace is faster and she behaved better than her rival.

Reaching for the first mark, 10 miles down Long Island shore, with the wind abaft the beam, she gained 21 seconds. In the closer reach for the second stake she gained 30 seconds and in the fresh to windward on the leg home she gained exactly two minutes.

Not, perhaps, as thrilling as the remarkable race of last Saturday, today's race was nevertheless stirring from start to finish, and as a marine spectacle it could hardly have been surpassed. It was ideal October day at sea. There was just enough frostiness to clear the atmosphere and make the whole picture visible from shore. The breeze from land piled up little swells, but it was strong enough to whip the froth out of the racing waves until it whitened the face of the sea. Its claws cast the black smoke from the stacks of the excursion fleet and the white plume from their exhaust pipes and tore them into fragments. The ensigns, pennants with which the vessels were dressed stood out like painted boards. The tall, canvas-clouded racers heeled as the wind smote them until their decks could with difficulty keep their footing on the slippery, sloping decks, and the spurting spray was hissed 30 feet high as they shook their leaden noses free from the foaming crests. On the thresh to windward their decks were a smother of white and fountains of foam circled away from their graceful bows.

The Yankee victory began with the start when the crafty Barr, by a system of maneuvering, convinced his adversary that he was trying to cross the line first. Captain Sycamore promptly took the bait and, rushing his boat into the position, sent her away almost in the smoke of the gun. Thereupon Captain Barr, having accomplished his purpose, tacked out back of the line and held it for more than a minute. Then with a flying start he went over just before the handicapping gun was fired. Some of the boats were disappointed until the experts explained that there was no windward berth in a reach, where the boats could lay their course straight for their mark, and the position astern, where Barr could keep his eye on every move of his rival, was the commanding one. He could watch Sycamore like hawk, knowing that when the gap between them was closed the race was his.

For the first 15 miles no human eye could tell which ship, if either, was gaining, so closely were they matched. But adually it became apparent that the Columbia was overhauling the flying challenger. Slowly, inch by inch and foot by foot, the white boat gained, both were going at a terrific pace. The patrol fleet to windward, steaming fast at intervals of 400 yards, had no difficulty in keeping the excursion fleet back of the winged giants. Everything in the fleet had to crowd on steam to keep the racers in sight, and the gait at which they were going left behind some of the steamboats astern. The guide boat, which started 15 minutes before the racers, dug out at full speed but she was hardly able to log off a distance and get the float overboard before the racers were upon her.

While going out the big North German Lloyd liner Deutschland, outward bound to Cherbourg, went through the edge of a excursion craft a half mile to the southward. The fleet seemed anchored, fast she went, looking like a big, swiftly moving summer hotel. In 20 minutes she was hull down on the horizon.

As the yachts approached the outer mark stream of signal flags was hoisted on the revenue cutter Gresham, the flagship of the patrol fleet, instructing them in the universal language of the sea to change direction by the right bank. The patrol boats swung around to line next and charged down upon the excursion fleet. The latter, with bells clanging in the engine room for more speed, turned tail and the whole fleet turned madly to leeward of the last leg of the course. Leaving the first mark on the starboard, the racers gybed over, the big booms and went careening for the second mark, the Columbia gaining slowly but surely. They had covered the first 10 miles in a little over 50 minutes. When they swung around the second stake they took in their baby jib topsails and hauled their wind for the beat home. Both yachts heeled until their under-bodies were lifted high out of the water and their lee rails dipped a foot into the swirling billows.

In five minutes after rounding the second mark it was apparent that the Columbia was footing faster and pointing higher. She went through Shamrock's lee like a quarter horse. The rush of the leviathans on the final tack was magnificent. The excursion boats, black with people from gunwale to pilot house, gathered about the finish in a great horseshoe. The great flyer came on well in the lead.

The patriotic skippers with their hands on their whistle cords could hardly restrain themselves. As she swept across the finish the din was earsplitting. Whistles split the air and steam sirens wailed, drowning the crash of the bands and the cheers of the people. The concert of sound was terrific. Until after the gallant Shamrock had been beaten but not disgraced, crossed a minute and 18 seconds later, whistles and sirens were kept going. When they died away the bands could be heard playing "Columbia, Gem of the Ocean," "Yankee Doodle," and other patriotic airs.

The steam yacht Corsair was the first of the fleet to signalize the American victory by setting the starry banner at her masthead. By this time all the skippers had ample time to ransack their lockers and within a minute afterwards every vessel in the fleet was alive with American flags.

Sir Thomas Lipton on the Erin did not approach within half a mile of the finish line. He had seen his high hopes blasted and probably did not care to be in at the jubilation over the defeat of his champion. But, like a good game sportsman, after the Columbia went over the line he ran the American flag up to the fore peak and fired a salute in its honor.

The rival crews cheered each other as they were towed home behind their tenders, escorted by the whole excursion fleet.

Within a half hour after the conclusion of the race the committee boat, in accordance with the agreement to race daily from now on, set the signal for a race tomorrow.

Sir Thomas Lipton, although plainly depressed at the result of the race, stood bravely at the gangway of the Erin and bade cordial adieu to his guests. He also entertained a large party of yachtsmen and ladies who visited the Erin after the guests had departed.

When asked what he thought of the race he said:

"I admit frankly that I got licked by the best boat in a fair and square race and I maintain and believe that there is not a better skipper afloat than Captain Sycamore nor a better crew than mine. I have as much confidence in my captain and crew as when I came to this side, but they cannot do impossibilities. They took as much out of the boat as could be taken.

"I am very much disappointed at the result," added Sir Thomas, "and the only consolation is that I know I have been licked by a good, honorable opponent. I know that the wind was true and that the Columbia won without any flukes."

When asked by a visiting yachtsman if he felt despondent, Sir Thomas replied pluckily:

"As long as the Shamrock flag flies there is just as much fight in me and I am beaten in the third race I am just as hopeful."

Speaking of Designer Watson, Sir Thomas said:

"I feel very much for Mr. Watson. He has done his best and if he does not succeed it is simply because he has a more able man to meet on this side in Mr. Herreshoff. He has worked hard for two years on this boat and he has neglected nothing that he thought would help her."

Sir Thomas said the thing he felt most disappointed about was the defeat of the Shamrock in the windward work.

"We were so all sure she would do well in that and in such a breeze, but she seemed to 'pound' too much."

He added that there would be no changes in the trim or the sails of the Shamrock.

Edward D. Morgan, the Columbia's manager, when seen on board the Park City after the race, said:

"We won against an excellent foe. I always thought such a day as this would be a Columbia day. Both boats were superbly handled. We have now two races against Shamrock sailed in what was supposed to be Shamrock weather. There was no reason why Shamrock should not win and therefore I believe the Columbia is the best racing yacht in the world."

Mr. Morgan said the combination of Jameson and Sycamore was a hard one to beat.

Captain Barr said:

"We won the race against a very powerful adversary."

Captain Sycamore of the Shamrock simply said:

"We did our best and were fairly beaten by a better boat."

Captain Bob Wringe, who sailed the Shamrock I in her race against the Columbia in 1899, said:

"The great surprise to me was the wonderful windward work of the Columbia. I was sure the Shamrock was able to outsail her in that breeze but she did not."

Course—Triangular.
First leg—East, half south, ten miles.
Second leg—Southwest, half south, ten miles.
Third leg—North-northeast, ten miles to finish.

Weather—Fresh breeze from north-northwest which remained true and maintained its strength throughout the day.

The tow out of the racers from their anchorage to the starting line was devoid of interest. There was no heavy swell to cause skippers anxiety about their bobstays. Thus it was that the Shamrock set the largest of her club topsails and nothing daunted, the Columbia followed suit. When the preparatory gun was fired it was clearly evident that the Columbia cared little for the start which was made to leeward on the close reach, the triangular course offering no benefit whatever to the craft first away. There was no true battle for position.

The committee boat Navigator dropped anchor in her usual place south of the lightship at 10:30 and at that time both yachts in tow under bare poles headed up in the wind and hoisted their mainsails. Their head sails were already in stops. The Shamrock was first to cast loose from her tug and a moment later her head sails were broken out from their stops and she made a clean run for the lightship. The Columbia, which had been hugging the easterly end of the line eased off sheets and stood for the mark. Signals were hoisted from the committee boat that the course would be triangular which meant that there would be two close reaches and one dead beat to windward for home. The yachts heeled to a scanty breeze when the preparatory gun was fired at 10:45. The Columbia, far to the eastward, stood down before the wind for the line; meanwhile the Shamrock was circling round the lightship. Before the warning gun was fired ten minutes after the preparatory signal, the Columbia was ahead, and, not wanting to cross the line too early, luffed up with her head sails shaking until she almost stood still. This put the Shamrock in the better position and, wearing close round she crossed the line almost at the gun while the Columbia elected to cross considerably more than one minute behind. Many experts thought that the Columbia would be handicapped, but Barr was on the alert and sent her across in time to save himself.

With the wind forward on the port beam and with a tiny jib topsail set on the Shamrock and a much larger and better pulling sail on the Columbia, the boats started out on the first leg of the triangle. During the first few minutes it was impossible to say whether the Columbia was gaining or not. In the gusts of wind she seemed to heel over less than the challenger and also appeared to steer a slightly higher course. The wind, though holding true from north-northwest, varied in violence. Occasionally a heavy squall would strike one of the racers, causing her to heel, but taking the mean of the puffs neither could be said to have been favored. It soon became apparent that the race was to be sailed in very quick time. The gain of the Columbia, which the turn of the first mark proved she had made, was almost imperceptible. Toward the mark the wind freshened. The Columbia, with a lesser sail spread seemed to stand stiffer than her rival but there was little to choose between them. They smothered along toward the mark and when they rounded it the Columbia had gained only 22 seconds.

The gybe of both craft was well done. Under the same sail as they started, they both stood for the second mark. The wind piped stronger and in the strongest of the puffs the Shamrock had to luff a little to ease her to the force of the breeze. The Columbia, on the contrary, was allowed to feel the full power of every squall, never being eased and it was this that helped her ahead. In spite of the larger sail spread of her antagonist, she was never left behind, but kept up with the challenger. It became apparent at the time that the Columbia had sailed over one-half of the second leg that she had saved her time and was, barring accidents, a winner. Her skipper, instead of nursing her through the squalls, let her feel the strength of them while the Shamrock's larger spread of sail caused her to make imperative luffs, or else carry away something. In a reaching breeze closer and finer sailing perhaps was never seen. There were frequent occasions when the collapse of a topmast seemed almost due. But everything hung on.

Now the second mark was in sight, and at 12:45 jib topsails were doused on both yachts and they luffed around it, the Shamrock in the lead, but the watches showing Columbia's gain on this leg to be 30 seconds.

It was now a dead beat to windward to the finish line. The Columbia was now the leading craft from the mathematical point of view. She had gained on both legs and also had her time allowance of 43 seconds to help her. Thus, if she could hold her own to the finish line, the race would be hers.

In rounding the mark the boats split tacks, Shamrock standing on the starboard tack for a few hundred yards. Columbia went on the port tack for a while and then at 1:06 both were on the starboard tack. Then began a splendid thresh to windward. The Columbia outpointed the Shamrock, but the challenger seemed to be going a little faster.

At 1:15 the Columbia ran like a streak of lightning through the lee of the Shamrock, luffed out across her bow and for the first time in the race she was leading and the windward boat.

At 1:20 both yachts went on the port tack, standing toward the Long Island shore. There was little or no difference between them in this board. At 1:57 both boats went on starboard tack for the finish line. Then came the biggest puff of all. The Shamrock had three or four streaks of the deck under water, but ran risks hoping to diminish her defeat or even to win. But it was in vain. She made up a lot of her leeway, but the Columbia crossed the line a winner and to spare.

BITTER DISAPPOINTMENT TO CROWDS IN LONDON

By Associated Press.

London, Oct. 3. 10:10 p. m.—The extent of Great Britian's disappointment at the defeat today of the Shamrock II can be thoroughly appreciated only by those who saw the thousands of spectators lining the embankment. Almost to a man they were expectant of a victory. The early editions of the afternoon newspapers announcing that it was the Shamrock's weather had keyed up hopes here almost to a pitch of certainty and many people entertained the idea that the depression over South African affairs might be relieved by a victory of the Shamrock II. The latter's lead in the early part of the race so strengthened this impression that London threatened a repetition of Mafeking night. The crowds greeted the green lights on the towers and on the launches which paraded the Thames with wild delight. But Columbia's red slowly crept up and motor cars with megaphones dashed up and down the embankment proclaiming Columbia's lead. The yachts in the Thames reversed the position of their lights and those on the signal towers were changed. The crowds stood awaiting the final messages. America's cup dinners were advertised at the Embankment hotels and overlooking the river many fashionable people dined watching the moving lights until red from all sides was flashed out.

"Columbia wins" was shouted through the hotel corridors and the throngs dispersed.

A curious feature of the race was the announcement of the result two minutes before it actually occurred off Sandy Hook. This was due to a news message agency timed Sandy Hook 2:05 p. m. saying that Columbia had won followed by others giving alleged details all bearing times previous to the official and unofficial records of the yachts crossing the line. Reuter's Telegram company received the first genuine message announcing the result.

DOYLE'S CASE OUTLINED BY HIS COUNSEL

By Associated Press.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Oct. 3.—The famous Doyle-Burns case was fairly launched today before Judge Macy in the district court. The case is one wherein James Doyle seeks to recover from James Burns mining property or its equivalent aggregating in value $750,000.

Doyle's claim as outlined in the opening statement of his counsel, is that the Bobtail No. 2, Tidal Wave, Devil's Own and other claims, now comprising part of the holdings of the Portland Mining company, were located under an agreement between himself, Burns, John O'Haire and Jeremiah O'Driskell. It is his contention, however, that Burns so manipulated them that when the other claims were laid out, a small piece of ground including about three quarters of an acre was left between them, and that this was subsequently located by Burns as the Portland lode, and that to deceive his partners, O'Haire and O'Driskell, Burns caused the name of J. Doyle & Co. to be placed on the location stakes. Doyle claims half interest in the stock received by Burns after the formation of the Portland Mining company, together with dividends on such stock.

Burns claims that Doyle was a director in the mining company for several years and, in a position to look after his own interests, and that the affairs of the company were at all times above board and conducted in a regular way.

Today five witnesses were called, but their testimony was mostly technical, most of it relating to what ex-Governor Thomas of Colorado, counsel for the defense, terms "interesting reminiscences," touching on the early location and staking of the claims.

A 10-year-old Cripple Creek boy thought it would be fun to set off a giant cap with a hammer on a rock; he still has two fingers on his left hand.

Special prosecutors appointed by Judge Johnson have accepted the position and the investigation will probably begin the first of the week.

A dispatch from Gunnison says the convicts who escaped from the penitentiary August 19 have been seen near Saguache.

A DAY GIVEN TO REVELRY

Maskers Were in Possession of Denver's Streets Yesterday.

AN UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS

Five Thousand Masked Figures Participated in Grand March Before 12,000 Applauding Witnesses.

PROGRAM FOR TODAY.

Bromo Seltzer.
Hourly.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Oct. 3.—If the preceding days of the festival were pronounced successful, today was doubly so. It was given entirely over to merriment and fun and 8,000 costumed and masked figures entertained 90,000 spectators with their grotesque appearance and frivolous actions from noon until midnight. It was certainly a fitting climax to the festival, and under the many influences of the revelers, the cares and anxieties of life were forgotten while all Denver and her guests whirled away the time in genuine pleasure.

The spectacle of 8,000 people dressed in every imaginable costume, scattered promiscuously throughout the business section of a large city, and holding high yet innocent revelry, and of 5,000 masked figures participating in a grand march before 12,000 applauding witnesses, is one that if seen will never be forgotten. Such scenes were enacted in Denver today and no doubt there is no other city in the United States that could hold a carnival, masked parade and ball, such as was given here today without the unruly element predominating. Many eastern cities have attempted to hold them, but after one or two trials have given up in despair, yet in Denver year after year they are given with increased numbers participating, and the revelers never fail to respect the rules governing the program.

One of the principal reasons for the pronounced success of these carnival days is the way in which the program is managed, prepared and carried out. Long before the maskers begin to think of the day, a special committee was diligently engaged preparing every detail and selecting guards and policemen to assist in carrying it to a successful end. Again this committee arranges a series of valuable prizes for the best costumes and these help to bring forth the better element of society. This year E. L. Sholtz was chairman of the carnival day committee, and G. Schumer and Wm. Sacks were his helpers. That they carried it through to a successful finish will be realized when it is known that today witnessed the largest attendance and number of maskers ever known.

This, the last day of the festival, was divided into three parts, a parade, promiscuous masking on Sixteenth street and a masked ball.

The parade moved promptly at 2 p. m. and occupied 55 minutes in passing a given point, and was about 3½ miles long. It was divided into six divisions and was one continuous vaudeville, comedy circus. Prizes ranging in value from $5 to $100 each served to inspire the local clubs to devote time in preparing burlesques. The $100 prize for the best take-off, in which 30 or more people participated, was won by the Occidental club, with a take-off program on the Knights Templars and Cook's Drum Corps. Previous to the departure of the Knights Templars to Louisville, where they captured a first prize, they could be seen rehearsing their performance on the paved streets almost any evening. In today's parade these rehearsals were reproduced with wonderful accuracy. The Cook Drum corps was mimiced very vividly and while the imitation music did not equal that rendered by the famous band, yet the crowd seemed to appreciate it more. At the head of this division was carried a banner which read, "You'll have to hurry, hurry, hurry, if you beat the bunch."

The Denver Wheel club carried off second honors with a very realistic scene in which a stage coach was held up and robbed.

In the class with from 10 to 20 participants, the Denver Athletic club won $50 with a reproduction of a Filipino base ball game. It represented our newly acquired brothers learning to play base ball. The only difference between their game and ours was that they killed the umpire instead of merely maiming him for life.

In the best couple turnout a vehicle named the "horsemobile" won first prize. This was a horse hitched into a pair of shafts with his head toward the buggy which he pushed.

Some one was dressed to represent Sir Thomas Lipton and who carried a miniature boat in which he was trying to have the Shamrock sail ahead of the Columbia caused no end of merriment and won $10 for his trouble, as the best individual make-up.

The other divisions and scenes represented everything imaginable from a burlesque on the Denver police department to an excellent representation of Mayor Wright in the mayor's best turnout. This burlesque caused the mayor who was occupying a box in the grand stand, as much merriment as anyone else.

One of the special features of the parade which was not expected was the magnificent horsemanship of an unknown masked lady who rode at the head of the second division. In some manner the first division passed about three blocks ahead of the second and when the latter turned into Sixteenth street it was black with humanity which had surged off the sidewalks. As soon as she saw the crowds, the incognito and F. E. Butler, who was leading the procession, took the part to policemen and forced the crowd back to the sidewalk. She then took her place at the head of the division and passed on as though that were an every day occurrence for her. The committee feel that her work is deserving of more than mere mention, and if she will make herself known a gold medal awaits her.

After the parade was over, promiscuous masking was allowed in the business section until 6 p. m. The principal pleasure was derived from dancing and the throwing of confetti. Just preceding the parade a military drill was won by the Knights of Pythias Victor over the Knights of St. John from Leadville.

But the grandest part of the entire three days merriment was saved for the last night when the thousands of maskers assembled in the arena and without regard to partners or acquaintanceship participated in the great carnival ball. The myriads of colored costumes sparkling and reflecting the lights, gave the arena the appearance of a changing kaleidoscope whose beauties continued to increase with every turn of the plans. The throne of King Rex had been erected on the far side of the arena across from the throne of the queen of the festival, and at the eight bells hour he and his queen were ushered in and crowned as the rulers of the month, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bloedoes were crowned king and queen. The ceremonies accompanying their coronation equalled if not surpassed the previous coronations of the week. After they were completed, the grand march began. Forty-eight directors of the festival led the march, followed by the king with his court of honor, who were in turn followed by the maskers. It has been the intention to have the latter enter the gate in platoons of eight and to so guide the march as to have the entire 8,000 masked figures moving at once, but the V shaped ways leading to the arena again caught the crowd in a crush as was done Monday night, and after about 1,200 had been admitted, the police were compelled to open the gates and allow the others to pass in promiscuously. In a few minutes the arena was filled, the band struck up a march, and from then on King Rex and his subjects were lost to the world in the exhilarating joy of the dance.

At exactly 12:30 this Friday morning, the tenor drums sounded the taps, the revelers went home, the lights were turned out and Denver bade good night and goodby to her carnival guests of 1901.

NO EXTRA SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Oct. 3.—It is now practically settled that there will be no extra session of the legislature. Your correspondent has it upon the best of authority that all differences existing between the state and the corporations will be arranged and settled outside of the courts. The corporations will submit to a reasonable valuation of their property.

The state board of equalization will adjust the values as placed on the property by the state board of assessors.

It is understood that the entire trouble will be settled within the next few days.

LABOR MEN CONFERRED WITH THE PRESIDENT

By Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 3.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and Ralph M. Easley, secretary of the National Civic Federation, had a conference today with President Roosevelt and presented several matters for his consideration. One was the Chinese exclusion act, which terminates by limitation in March, 1902. The labor interests, it appears, desire the exclusion act renewed and asked President Roosevelt for his aid in this direction.

The president likewise was asked to say something in his message recommending favorable action on the eight hour proposition pending in congress. Mr. Gompers was requested to submit a brief giving the position of the labor interests on these questions and all the facts that the labor leaders desire laid before the president.

MINING

The market yesterday developed much weakness in all departments. Isabella sold as low as 6¾. Elkton went at $1.73 and Vindicator declined to $1.11½. Sedan and New Haven each sold at 4½. Much weakness was apparent in low-priced stocks.

The Nellie V. company is reported to have opened the old ore body in the work which recently started north of the shaft. The lessees on the north end are ready to make a regular production from the same vein.

Mr. J. M. Allen, who recently returned from Buffalo, states that eastern investors will entertain no confidence in local mining stocks until future trading is abolished. He recommends the wider distribution of quotations in the east.

The returns received in one week from ore shipped from the Tonopah mining district amounted to $10,574.64, after all transportation and treatment charges had been paid. One lot ran $115.80 in gold and silver to the ton.

NEWS NOTES FROM DENVER

Firemen Made Exhibition Run—Prohibitionists to Nominate a Ticket.

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Denver, Oct. 3.—An exhibition fire department run was given by the local "laddies" this morning in honor of the visiting firemen who are in the city. The run was made on Fourteenth street and the display consisted of extinguishing an imaginary blaze on the roof of the City hall.

Joseph C. Clough committed suicide this morning by shooting himself through the head in his room at the Narragansett hotel. He has, for the past five years, been slightly demented, imagining that he owned the earth. A few days ago he formed the opinion that the courts were trying to take it away from him. The thought of losing his imaginary possessions so weighed on him that he blew out his brains.

Robert J. Pitkin and Ralph Talbot, the two special prosecutors appointed by Judge Johnson to have charge of the special investigation of the alleged bribery charges, have both accepted the positions. The investigation will probably begin next Monday or Tuesday.

A report from Gunnison, Colo., says: D. K. Reid, Frank Norris and Ed. Cavineas, the convicts who escaped from the penitentiary August 10, have been seen near Baguache. Officers are on the trail.

The Prohibitionists of Arapahoe county, will hold their convention next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. It is said that they will nominate some one of the many ministers who have led the temperance and reform fights in the city during the past few years for sheriff.

The following list of accidents was recorded at the police station during the day:

Eddie McCook, aged 14, who lives at 1614 Sixth street, fell off a telegraph pole at Sixteenth and Larimer streets while watching a band, and broke his wrist.

Albert Badon, of 1416 South Twelfth street, had a fight at Fifteenth and Gleham and was badly injured.

Cornelius Casey, of 440 South Water street, broke his wrist in a fight.

Frank Johnson of 1736 Larimer street, fell off the street car at Twenty-seventh and Larimer streets and injured his right ankle.

Bert Jason, a horse trainer, of Velverde, was thrown off his horse yesterday at Fourteenth and California streets and fractured a wrist and a leg.

CASES AGAINST STRONG SETTLED BY AGREEMENT

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Oct. 3.—Today in the supreme court, Judge Helm, acting as attorney for Nellie Lewis, and Gus Martin, the attorney for the estate of Sam Strong, (deceased), entered into a stipulation providing for the complete satisfaction of the judgment of $50,000 which was obtained, during the lifetime of Mr. Strong on account of breach of promise.

It is understood that tomorrow the case of Lennox vs. Strong and the Strong Mining company vs. Strong will be disposed of in the district court of Arapahoe county.

Mr. Martin was seen this evening and beyond stating that everything had been settled in a satisfactory manner and on terms reasonable would give no further information.

A DETERMINED WOMAN

Finally Found a Food That Cured Her.

"When I first read of the remarkable effects of Grape-Nuts food, I determined to secure some," says Mrs. C. W. Aldridge of Salisbury, Mo. "At that time there was none kept in this town, but my husband ordered some from a Chicago traveler.

"I had been greatly afflicted with sudden attacks of cramps, nausea, and vomiting. Tried all sorts of remedies and physicians, but obtained only temporary relief. As soon as I began to use the new food the cramps disappeared and have never reappeared.

"My old attacks of sick stomach were a little slower to yield, but by continuing the food, that trouble has disappeared entirely. I am today perfectly well, can eat anything and everything I wish, without paying the penalty that I used to. We could not, and would not, keep house without Grape-Nuts.

"My husband was so delighted with the benefits I received that he has been recommending Grape-Nuts to his customers and has built up a very large trade on the food. He sells them by the case to most of the leading physicians of the county, who prescribe Grape-Nuts very generally. There is some satisfaction in finding a really prepared food."

NEWS NOTES FROM VICTOR

Victor Bureau,
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Victor, Oct. 3.—Word was received in Victor today that Thomas McCarvill of Charlottown, P. E. I., died recently, leaving a legacy of several million dollars. In his will he stated that he had no near relatives, but mentioned a cousin and uncle living in the gold district of Colorado. The allusion is probably to Patrick McCarvill of this city, as there is no other party of that name known here in the state. If Mr. McCarvill turns out to be the right party he will receive a very comfortable fortune from his cousin. He is at present in Canon City recuperating his health.

Thomas Gorman, who was injured at Stratton's Independence mine yesterday afternoon, will probably lose the sight of both of his eyes. The doctors in attendance state that if infiltration does not set in there is a chance to saving the unfortunate man's eyes. William Blendergast, who was injured at the same time, is getting along nicely at the Sisters hospital in Cripple Creek and has excellent chances for a complete recovery. The Hendrie & Bolthoff Manufacturing company of Denver will send a man from that city to take care of the injured employe.

James Baldwin was arrested today charged with discharging firearms inside the city limits. Baldwin took a shot at John Duckette's dog. The shot took effect and consequently Mr. Duckette swore out a complaint against Mr. Baldwin. Mr. Duckette claims that his dog was of a peaceable nature and that Baldwin shot him without provocation. Duckette was arrested later on a charge of malicious mischief.

H. B. Flegg, who has been employed as the porter at the Portland mine, left today for a prospecting trip through New Mexico. Mr. Flegg takes his wife and family to Albuquerque, where they will remain with relatives while Mr. Flegg proceeds on his trip.

The Westbore Girl band of Kansas will arrive in Victor tomorrow morning and will give an open air concert at the corner of Fourth street and Victor avenue. The gentle visitors will be treated to a tour of the principal mines of the district and during their stay in this city will be the guests of Gold Coin camp, M. W. A.

William Waters, a hanger-on at the Prince saloon, had his leg broken between the ankle and knee in a friendly scuffle at the saloon at 10 o'clock tonight. He was removed to the Sisters hospital at Cripple Creek.

FLORENCE

Special to the Gazette.

Florence, Oct. 3.—The election of officers of the Florence State bank was held here today and the following men were elected: E. P. Large of Denver, president; Frank Ruby of this city, vice president, and Newton Large also of this city, cashier. The $20,000 building for the bank has been completed and the institution will be opened about the 25th of this month. It will be capitalized at $20,000.

J. W. Work has dropped out of the newspaper fraternity of this city, and last night a deal was consummated whereby his paper, the Redner, was purchased by the Ex-Parte Publishing company, which is composed of Senator F. A. Moore, F. P. Warner and H. D. Johnson. Mr. Warner, who is a veteran newspaper writer of Colorado, will be managing editor and Mr. Moore will be the business manager.

The most important coal company that has been formed here in years is the Ocean Wave Coal company, which is backed by S. P. Smith, Sr., and S. P. Smith, Jr., and Charles Cowan, of Coal Creek, at Williamsburg, and which will enter into competition with the Colorado Fuel & Iron company. The concern is capitalized at $75,000, fully paid and non-assessable. The acene of operation is the Ocean Wave coal mine, located near Williamsburg and adjacent to both the Sata Fe and Rio Grande railroads. The product for the mine is all contracted for by Cripple Creek parties. The main slope has a drift 400 feet.

William Orr and J. S. Kelly, research chemists of Denver, are at the Metallic mill, taking out the gold left in the solution when the mill closed down last January. There are several hundred tons of the solution and the work will occupy 30 days. Mr. Orr is head chemist for McAthie & Forrest of Denver.

CRIPPLE CREEK NEWS NOTES

Rearranging Voting Precincts—Mr. Blake's Denial—Sunset-Eclipse Co

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Cripple Creek, Oct. 3.—The board of county commissioners have spent some time this week rearranging the voting precincts. Under previous arrangements [illegible] was found [illegible] to be more than 300 voters in any one precinct. There have been a few material changes made especially at Cameron, Clyde and Gillett. Those who have permanent addresses in will vote at Cameron, and those of precincts 11 and 12, the residents at Clyde will go there to complete their votes at Gillett. Changes have also been made at Goldfield, Altman and Midway, enough more precincts being created to accomodate the voters. While the number of precincts has not been increased to any extent, they have been apportioned in a manner that will suit the requirements of the law.

William J. Drake, the candidate for county treasurer on the Republican ticket, has issued a very emphatic denial of the rumor circulated by certain Democratic factions to the effect that he would withdraw from the Republican ticket. It is stated that the Democrats feel that they are particularly weak as regards the contest for treasurer, and are doing everything they can to pull down the Republican ticket so that they may defeat it.

A sheriff's deed was filed today with the county recorder transferring the entire interest of the Los Angeles Gold Mining company to R. Coodington, Jr. The transfer was to [illegible] to W. Fisher, who bought the property at auction in November of last year, thereby satisfying the judgment of H. H. Bushnell for $4,769. The judgment was obtained in the district court of Arapahoe county on October 8. Mr. Fisher transferred his interest to Mr. Coodington and Sheriff Stewart, accordingly made the deed in favor of the latter. The property is somewhat of a bonanza at the auction price, but just what Mr. Coodington's intentions are as to its future, has not been ascertained. Mr. Coodington resides in Russell county, Nebraska.

In the district court today the Tompkins Hardware Supply company filed suit for foreclosure of a lien against the Gold Exploration and Tunnel company. The Morrill Hardware company, The Colorado Trading & Transfer company, the First National Bank of this city and Larry Maroney were made defendants to the suit on account of their having liens against the company which they are suing to foreclose. The amount which the Tompkins Hardware Supply company is endeavoring to recover is $1,578 41. The plaintiff prays that its claim be satisfied and that an adjustment be made between it and the defendants holding the other liens.

Application was made today by the board of county commissioners to have Clementine Chatillon, aged five years, and Robert Gordon, aged 12 years, sent to the state home for dependent and neglected children. The parents of the little girl are dead and the board claims that the boy's surroundings are such as to justify the state in assuming his guardianship.

Bessie Wiland and Ruby McBride are in the county jail, charged with incorrigibility. An application will probably be made to have them sent to the State Industrial school. The girls ran away from their homes in Cripple Creek and were brought back by Deputy Sheriff Mexny who found them in Victor yesterday afternoon.

The Sunset-Eclipse Gold Mining company today filed a certificate of its principal place of business and agency. Colorado Springs is its principal office, with George L. Knauff as agent. Frank F. Costello as president and St. George Tucker as secretary, signed the certificate.

The Eclipse Consolidating Gold Mining company filed a deed with the county recorder conveying to the Sunset-Eclipse G. M. Co. the Yellow Jacket, Columbia and Eclipse lode claims on Battle mountain for a consideration of $1.00.

John L. Arnett deeded to Verner Z. Reed a small interest in the Total Wreck and Hard Scrabble No. 1 lode claims on Battle mountain for $1.00.

J. H. Moore and Wm. Benedict today deeded to the Dexter G. M. Co. that portion of the Illinois lode claim lying outside of the Hill Top Accident and Dexter claims, for a consideration of $1.00.

[illegible] was brought suit against P. B. Holmes for $[illegible] and costs, alleged to be due on a note of $[illegible] made by the plaintiff to the defendant.

The will of Owen Dearing was filed in the county court today. His wife was named as administratrix without bond. The will was dated September 21, 1901. Dearing lived in Goldfield and left considerable property in that city to his wife. The probate hearing will come up on Monday.

J. H. Adams, aged 67 years and affiliated with the Tuscarora Tribe No. 29 of the I. O. R. M., died today at the county hospital of typhoid pneumonia. The funeral will be conducted by the Tuscarora Tribe.

Herbert Wren, aged a 13-year old boy living at 131 West Eaton avenue, had his thumb and two fingers on his left hand nearly torn off by the explosion of a giant cap at 7 o'clock this evening. Fragments of the cap also lodged in his face. He was taking home a box of the caps and thought it would be fun to set one off with a hammer on a rock.

Out of town arrivals at the National hotel today were: C. B. Miller and J. C. Veale of Chicago; David MacLaren and wife of Victoria, Australia; M. F. Bradey and S. M. Shattuc of Denver; R. H. Stifel of Colorado Springs; E. N. [illegible] of Philadelphia; C. Garth Cross and G. [illegible] of [illegible]; [illegible] of New York; L. E. Nelson of Florida; W. B. Elliott of Beaumont, Texas; E. N. Worthlin of Cincinnati; A. L. Oppenheim of Louisville, Ky.; Lewis W. Schotte of Saginaw, Mich.; W. C. Crum of Helena, Mont.

NEWS NOTES FROM PUEBLO

Sliding Off the Democratic Ticket—New School Is Needed for Bessemer.

Pueblo Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Pueblo, Oct. 3.—The Democratic knot tied itself even harder today than it was yesterday. If the party even secures a full ticket to present to the voters this fall it will be lucky. Indications are that the committee on vacancies will have more work than the convention. F. H. Frankenberg, president of the Modoc Mining company and the nominee for county treasurer, has sent a letter to the central committee resuming the honor. And the committee today also received a letter from E. S. Bay declining the nomination for assessor. J. S. Greene will probably not be a candidate and today James P. McCorkle declined to be a candidate for justice. W. B. McNeely, who was Mr. McCorkle's opponent in the convention, has been put on the ticket in his stead.

Mrs. E. Irene Rood, representing the American Humane Education society of Chicago, who secured the passage of a bill by the state legislature providing for the teaching of humane principles in the public schools, is in Pueblo to confer with the school teachers along the lines of the new work and to establish a branch society of the one she represents in Pueblo. Mrs. Rood has just established a society in Denver which has many prominent members.

B. Ciembelli, the former editor of a local Italian paper, is on trial in the district court on a charge of larceny as [illegible].

Republican headquarters will be established in a vacant room in the Central block. The Republican county central committee is making elaborate preparations for an energetic campaign.

Indications are that the increase in the population of Bessemer will soon make it necessary for a new public school building. Five years ago a four-room building easily accommodated the children, while now a 12-room building is very much overcrowded.

It is said that the ordinance introduced by the city council Monday night to extend the saloon limits in Bessemer will meet with much opposition. It is understood that a movement has been begun by church people to protest against the proposed change. Opinion in Bessemer on the subject seems to be about equally divided.

GOLDFIELD

Special to the Gazette.

Goldfield, Oct. 3.—O. L. Booth, ex-alderman of this city, now living in Cripple Creek, made a business visit here today.

Friends of James Brown, who was injured in the Last Dollar mine a few days ago, will be glad to hear that he is recovering very rapidly.

The Pocahontas lodge entertained the Anaconda and Cripple Creek councils in this city on Tuesday evening. A delightful time was had by the visitors.

Judge C. Q. Richmond, candidate for county judge on the Republican ticket, and Chas. Crowder, candidate for sheriff, were here yesterday morning and were introduced to the citizens by J. T. McNeely.

John Mamor, who has been very sick with typhoid fever, is getting along nicely and it is thought he will recover entirely within the next few weeks.

What Shall We Eat

To Keep Healthy and Strong?

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best, in spite of the claims made by vegetarians and food cranks generally.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grains.

Dr. Julius Remusson on this subject says: Nervous persons, people run down in health and of low vitality, should eat plenty of meat. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily strengthened by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three or four hours, while the malt diastase also contained in Stuart's Tablets causes the perfect digestion of starchy foods, like potatoes, bread, etc., and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets because they supply the pepsin and diastase so necessary to perfect digestion, and any form of indigestion and stomach trouble cured. Relief of the stomach will be overcome by their daily use.

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspeptics should eat plenty of meat and insure its complete digestion by the systematic use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of the natural digestive principles pepsinos and diastase, which actually perform the work of digestion and give the abused stomach a chance to rest and to furnish the body and brain with the necessary nutriment. Cheap cathartic medicines masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures are useless for relief or cure of indigestion because they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the indigestion is to make daily use at meal time of a safe preparation which is indorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles and all this can truly be said of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

All druggists throughout the United States, Canada and Great Britain sell them at the uniform price of fifty cents for full treatment.

ASPHALT CONTROVERSY TO BE ARBITRATED

By Associated Press.

Caracas, Venezuela, Oct. 3.—Minister Bowen has succeeded in persuading the parties to the asphalt controversy, the representatives of the Bermudez company, and of Warner and Quinlan to accept arbitration. The state department has been requested to urge the asphalt companies in New York to accept this plan which will settle the perplexing question.

By Associated Press.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 3.—President Quinland of the Warner-Quinland company tonight declared the story of the asphalt settlement false. He said that the matter was now beyond the point of a compromise.

ENGLISH EXPERTS WON THE CRICKET MATCH

By Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 3.—The international cricket match between Bosanquet's English experts and 12 players from this city was completed today at Bergen Point, N. J., the Englishmen winning by seven wickets. Bosanquet and Crawford did the best work scoring 44 and 24 respectively, none of the remaining batsmen getting into double figures. The innings closed with a total of 165 runs, just 25 more than the score of the New Yorkers in their first inning.

In the second inning it looked as if the home team would suffer a single inning defeat, as the first four wickets fell for 12 runs. Kelly and Dalton just then made a stand and were not separated until 27 runs had been put together. The total of the second inning was 93 which included 11 extras. This made the grand total 258 for the home team.

The English had 56 to make in order to win. They sent Mitchell and Crawford, two of their best batters in first and Kelly began bowling. Crawford sent the first ball to the boundary for four and drove the next one over the stand and out of the grounds for six. Runs came quickly and in 10 minutes 30 was on the board. Crawford retired by a beautiful catch in long field by Standfast off Kelly after he had contributed 16 and Mitchell was caught by Hurditch at the wicket off Dalton for 21. The only other double figures were those of Schwarz, who carried his bat for 12, his last contribution being a four which raised the score to 55, winning the match by seven wickets.

ROGERS CITED FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

By Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 3.—Judge Lacombe, in the United States circuit court today issued an order today directing that Henry Rogers, vice president of the Standard Oil company appear before him Tuesday next to answer for contempt of court in failing to appear before a special examiner appointed by the court to take testimony in the suit of J. Ward Addicks against the Boston Gaslight company and the Massachusetts Pipe Line company in a suit now pending in the United States district court for Massachusetts.

The order is based on the affidavit of Oscar Wagner, a lawyer who makes affidavit that he made seven different efforts to serve the order of the court upon Mr. Rogers. The lawyer makes affidavit that on August 28 he saw Mr. Rogers embark on the yacht Kanawha, that the yacht later stopped off the battery and that two men came ashore in a launch from it. He recognized one of the men, he said, as Mr. Rogers, but when he attempted to hand him the subpoena Mr. Rogers boarded the launch.

One day during the past week thought two of our printers saw something on their stools at the window sticking type when they were nearly paralyzed by the sight of a snake reconnoitering its head above the sill from the outside. The boys soon broke their necks in getting away. BILL WAS LAID ON THE TABLE

County Commissioners Think Sheriff Does Not Need an Extra Guard at the Jail.

The county commissioners are divided along political lines on the question as to whether Sheriff Don Goddard needs three men to care for the county jail and its prisoners.

Over four months ago, after several prisoners made a daring attempt to escape from the jail, the commissioners authorized the sheriff to employ an extra guard. Later, two of the commissioners say, Sheriff Goddard was told to discharge the guard, but this was not done.

Yesterday Samuel Marshall, the extra guard, presented his bill for two months' pay to the commissioners, who laid it on the table, by a majority of one, until they can get the opinion of the county attorney as to whether or not they should pay it. Two of the commissioners say there is no necessity for an extra man at the jail and that the sheriff had no right to employ him, while Chairman Dorn, whose sympathies are with the sheriff, says the bill ought to be paid.

Marshall's salary of $2 a day was paid for two or three weeks after the attempted jail break. Then, Commissioner Fairall says, Sheriff Goddard was told to discharge the extra guard. Mr. Goddard said that an extra man was needed at the jail for night duty, but the majority of the commissioners did not see it that way. Mr. Goddard insisted on the right to manage the jail and Marshall was kept on duty for four months, the fourth month expiring October 1.

When Marshall presented his bill to the commissioners yesterday two members of the board, Fairall and Greenway, refused to approve it. The bill was not disallowed, but the commissioners will ask the advice of County Attorney Orr regarding it.

DARING CLIMB OF HIGH SCHOOL BOYS

Some people going home late last Sunday night or early Monday morning were startled by a strange sight as they passed the High school. An silhouette outline of two boys could be distinctly seen away up the southwest turret and how they ever got there or why they did not fall and kill themselves was a mystery to the onlookers, but there they were, guarded from an awful fate by the proverbial luck which guards children and fools.

As the startled spectators watched, they presently saw one of the boys fasten a flag to the pole, and soon it was blowing in the moonlight breeze.

On Monday morning, the junior class held a great jubilation when they saw their cherished emblem on the highest turret of the school building.

HAS A MODEL OF THE COLUMBIA

A handsome model of the sloop yacht Columbia, which for a second time has beaten the Shamrock II, is on exhibition in the windows of the Day Realty company, on North Tejon street. The model was built by Captain John Cole, of Marblehead, Mass., who is an old crony of Captain Charles Barr, of the Columbia. Captain Barr's home is at Marblehead.

The model yacht was made for Harold Collins Day, son of T. P. Day. Captain Cole's son, William L. Cole, is now a resident of Colorado Springs.

The model is complete in every detail, and gives the people of this city a splendid idea of the appearance and proportions of the sloop. It has attracted a great deal of attention.

BOND ELECTION TAKES PLACE TODAY

A school election is to take place at the high school this afternoon. The polls will open at 2 o'clock and all those who have paid a tax within the past year are entitled to vote.

The question to be voted on is whether the board shall issue school bonds to the amount of $30,000 for improvements and additions needed at several of the buildings and the money from the proposed bond issue is to be used in this work. The directors hope that the taxpayers will take sufficient interest in the matter to get out and vote.

At the last bond issue election Secretary Collins had to go out on his bicycle to round up a few votes. The board has decided on a $30,000 bond issue as it is felt that no smaller sum will meet the pressing demands.

The polls open at 2 o'clock at the High school.

ENDEAVORERS WILL STRENGTHEN DISTRICTS

Colorado Christian Endeavorers have never placed as much stress upon district work as at present. The state is divided into seven districts and each one is officered for the purpose of furthering the cause of Christian work.

The recently appointed field secretary for the United States, Rev. C. C. Eberman, will spend some time in Colorado beginning November 27. The plan of the state executive committee is to make arrangements by which he will be able to visit each district. It is known that he is a hearty believer in district work and the president of the Colorado union feeling that the district work needed strengthening prevailed upon Secretary Eberman to visit Colorado at his earliest opportunity.

A rally of Endeavorers will be held at Canon City on Sunday next, at which time Secretary W. C. Wright and President H. R. Chapman will be heard. This will be the beginning of a number of rallies to be held over the state.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, Oct. 3.—On the mining stock market today prices were low for the most part, and the weak tenor of the market was an unusually one. There were a few exceptions in the mines list where the trading seemed to be without any intended which the Isabella break could not, although one or two of the stocks even in that department were firm. In the preferred and common lists the trading was quite general, but it was there that the greatest weakness of the day was developed. The selling was very largely due, however, to the fortunes of individual brokers, and not to any general market condition, as the selling was not general. Smith was the first trader in the mines to recovering to 8 cents on the strength of the article published in these columns

EASTERN MARKETS

By Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 3.—The opportunity was taken today for an overhauling and a readjustment generally of current quotations for industrial stocks. An extensive assortment came under the public review of the professional traders on the exchange, who went systematically through the whole list with a testing process of what is called "Offering down." If no purchaser was forthcoming for a stock at the last quoted price it was offered at successively lower prices until the making of purchase fixed the new price level. The result of this process demonstrated a barrenness of the public appetite for these securities, which is a revelation to many persons who have been impressed with the quoted prices ruling in the market. These prices in many cases were made during the period of active speculation, when purchasers could be attracted by the mere device of a sudden advance in market quotations. Actual transactions in a number of the securities have been few and far between for many months past. Today's operations revealed the fact that the supporting orders, which were kept in these stocks while there was any hope of outside purchases had been entirely withdrawn and the quotations crumbled away into fragments under the "offering down" process above described. Some of the sufferers in the various movements were affected by specific developments, such as declining earnings and actual or threatened new competition, but the whole class of stocks was too generally affected for any explanation to suffice except one of general application. Of course the results amount to a clear demonstration that ruling prices have been the result of flagrant manipulation. In stocks to which this applies, the mere fact of the cessation of the manipulation is sufficient explanation, without regard to developments affecting the actual value of the properties. The severe speculative losses caused by the recent collapse in the price of Amalgamated Copper is probably the immediate cause of the spirit of distrust engendered against the industrials as a class, and especially against the most notable offenders in the policy of concealment of earnings, expenses and even assets.

The action of the United States Steel corporation on Tuesday in publishing a statement of monthly net earnings induced a feeling that other industrial corporations must follow suit or suffer loss of confidence.

Sentiment was affected also by some recent destructive criticism of the plans of organization and capitalization of a number of minor industrial companies. Dread of legislative attack and the general apprehension of excessive over capitalization as a rule were elements in the results. A statement of the extreme declines recorded will serve to complete the story of the day. These were: National Salt 15¼; no sales of preferred but quoted at 55@60 at the closing compared with the previous sale of 75½; International Power 12¾; New York Air Brake 72¾; Glucose 85¾; Bergen County Gas and United States Rubber preferred 5; National Lead preferred 34¾; American Smelting 34¾; Tennessee Coal, Twin City Rapid Transit and People's Gas 3. The list of industrial stocks which declined from 1 to 2 is too long for speculation here. The railroad list was extremely dull and rather sluggish but it is significant of the spirit of the speculation that New York, Chicago & St. Louis preferred relapsed 2½ points, the common 3¾ and the other Vanderbilts from 1 to 2 after their recent manipulation. The whole market closed active and weak after showing some resistance during the day to the weakening effect of the industrials.

Railroad bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $1,990,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

THE watch—the finest machine—the synonym of perfection in the mechanical world. When you buy one, be sure you have more than a watch if you want satisfaction.

Watch satisfaction is worth something. The way to get watch satisfaction is to buy of us. We know the watch well enough to make of it a timekeeper, in case it should prove nothing but a watch.

A watch is an ornament and a nice thing to have, but there is more satisfaction in having a timepiece.

That's what you get here, and a guarantee that guarantees with ability to make it such.

Necessaries for The Infant

Every need for the baby is well looked after at Gidding's. Simply because the child is small is a reason why they should be slighted. Their necessities are many. Of late we have annexed many new lines—our aim is to make this department a paradise for the fond mother whose highest ambition is to have baby attired in as cunning a manner as possible. Everything essential to his lordship's or ladyship's comfort and health at this store.

It pays the most careful of the latter class are the stockinette rubber goods—bibs, bibs and sheets. All are nicely finished and put up in a truly neat manner. They are bound to be regular they're so practical.

India linnets and novelty styles, place line of coats far in the lead of rival lines. Fashioned garments tailored from Henriettas, Kerseys, Broadcloths, and Eiderdowns. All colors and all sizes.
